

Emily Jaworski

Work Experience

UNESCO

Responsible Futures Team Member

The Responsible Futures project aims to promote better futures literacy in policy studies. Our contribution focuses on the many benefits and insights of indigenous research methodology in futures practices.

To be published Summer 2022.

MANHAN GROUP LLC

Junior Member & Futurist

Manhan Group provides land use management tools for county government and transportation infrastructure organizations. My duties include researching, preparing and writing proposals, creating marketing materials and providing input from my futurist background on developing useful and robust scenarios for our clients.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ON LOVE AND SEX WITH ROBOTS

Comittee Member

My roles as a committee member include reaching out to and securing conference speakers, evaluating academic article submissions for publication, and coordinating with our international group of organizers and sponsors. In addition, I maintain and moderate our online community for sex tech, AI, and robotics professionals throughout the year.

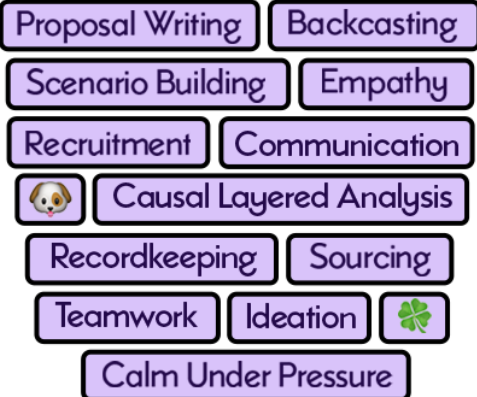

巨匠美語

English Teacher

Led and developed curriculum for adult classes of Mandarin speakers wishing to improve their English language skills. I was also hired out for one-on-one tutoring sessions with employees from Google, Apple and the medical industry for Business English and presentation preparation.

2017-2020

Skills

Accomplishments

Highest score on a thesis in the department history
Graduate Institute of Futures Studies,
Tam Kang University

First student to be accredited in the Futures Studies certification program
San Diego City College

Member of the Association of Professional Futurists

Black Belt in Tae Kwon Do

✉ emilyjaworski@gmail.com

+1-619-894-0552 ☎